

Trade Finance Net Services

- a better way for handling trade finance transactions

Trade finance administration can be simple.

Trade Finance Net Services is Nordea's Internet-based information and transaction service for collections, documentary credits and guarantees, both when you export and import.

You send your application and receive your advices and settlements directly in your PC. In addition you get access to inquiry and report functions, assisting you in e.g. tracking your outstanding transactions or creating a liquidity plan.

Save time

Communication is Internet-based, and thus replaces mail and fax.

Templates reduces the number of fields to fill in when you apply for a documentary credit, guarantee or complete a collection order.

You can transfer and edit export documentary credit texts in Word and resend them by e-mail. Simple and convenient when you request amendments from the buyer or want to copy the goods description to your invoice.

Save money

Smooth handling and prompt follow-up reduce your internal costs.

Exporters can also get quicker payments due, for instance, to faster access to the documentary credit or that the collection reaches the buyer quicker.

Increase security

All communication is encrypted and you decide which authorisations are to be given to whom at your company.

You identify yourself when logging on and all transaction data is saved and available to you when needed.

Increased availability

The service is open 24 hours, 7 days a week. Access can be granted to several persons at different geographical locations and all of your companies can be handled from the same connection.

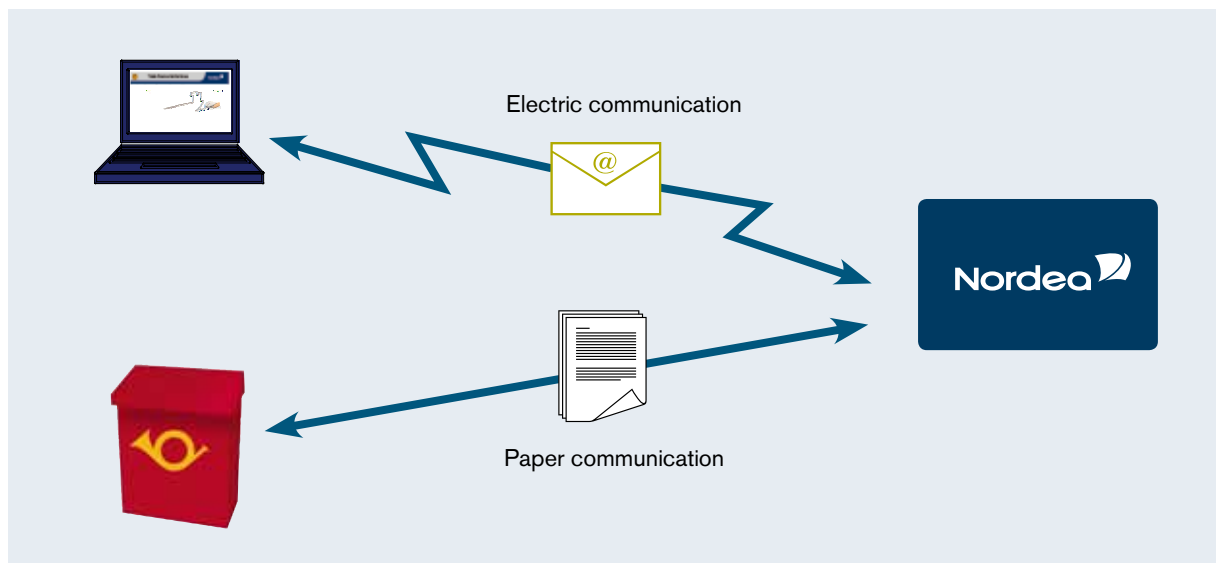

Increase the benefit

We not only offer one of the market's best e-solutions but also the highest quality in processing and advisory service. Our operations are based on long experience and playing an active role in the trade finance business community.

Your trade finance advisor will ensure that you get the best results in your trade finance transactions.
